Dear Sue Mintz:

I am writing to ask your permission to use Workplace Needs Survey created by your husband, Dr. Jeffrey Mintz. William Glasser International (WGI) will give credit to Dr Mintz as author and WGI will not charge a fee for anyone to use the instrument.

The Workplace Needs Survey is an assessment of basic needs in the workplace. It looks at four elements of the way we behave in order to distinguish our needs at the present time. It was based on the concept of the four basic needs described in Dr William Glasser's book, Reality Therapy, published in 1965.

This survey will be published on the WGI website (www.wglasserinternational.org) and may be distributed to those that wish to use it in the future.

Please complete and return this form to me at your earliest convenience. Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Dr Janet Morgan
WGI Research Coordinator

I do _____ do not _____ grant permission for my husband, Dr. Jeffrey Mintz's, work to be used for the purpose stated above.
